LOCAL DOTS.

—The U. D. C. will meet at the residence of Mrs. James F. Hunter Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Civic League will be held at the library Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

—Just before going to press we learned of the sad death at Kershaw this morning of Mr. Lewis D. Jones, a well-known business man of that place.

—Mr. W. J. Ghent sent us a cotton bloom plucked from his brag patch on the 25th instant, the first to appear in the Stoneboro neighborhood.

—There will be a picnic and two match games of baseball between the teams of Heath Springs and Yorkville at Heath Springs, on Monday, July 5.

—Mr. W. Joseph McIlwain, who underwent a serious surgical operation at a hospital in Richmond, returned home Saturday much improved in health.

—The laying of the concrete base for the sheet asphalt, which is to be put down on Main street, was begun in front of the residence of Mr. W. T. Gregory this morning.

—Death of a Little Child.

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Robinson of the mill village on Thursday, the 24th instant, and bore away their little daughter, Mary Guy, aged 10 months and 15 days. She had been sick three weeks. The remains were interred in West Side cemetery Friday, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. S. R. Brock.

TRAP THE FLY.

Lecture With Illustrating Slides on Subject at Star Theatre Friday.

A twenty minutes' lecture at the Star Theatre will be made by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce next Friday evening beginning promptly at 8 o'clock on the subject, "Trap the Fly." Sixty-two illustrating slides will be shown in connection with the lecture to demonstrate the necessity of a "Swat the Fly" campaign.

Eternal vigilance is the price of health. If we are to have a healthful community, healthful homes, and healthy, hearty boys and girls, we must dispose of the fly.

Keep everlastingly at it. That is the only way to succeed in anything, and it is especially true in combating a pest such as the fly which multiplies with such alarming rapidity.

Remember the time—Friday evening, July 2nd, promptly at 8 o'clock. The place—the Star Theatre—and be sure to come. Tell your friends about the importance of the "Swat the Fly" campaign, and urge upon them to attend with you.

Our people need to know what a menace to health the fly is. Mayor Kirkpatrick of Charlotte visited Asheville recently and was astounded as to what that city had done in the way of getting rid of the fly. Such a persistent and aggressive campaign has been going on in Asheville that screens are no longer necessary for protection against the pest. If you want to learn how to "Swat the Fly" good and proper, go to the Star Theatre Friday night.

Social News

Miss Mary Hood entertained in honor of the bride-to-be, Miss Joyce Clark, Friday afternoon at a very enjoyable card party. Two tables of bridge and one of rook players enjoyed her hospitality. The score cards were little hand-painted brides. Miss Christine McIlwain won first honor prize. Miss Bessie McManus the rook prize, a dainty crepe de chine handkerchief. The guest of honor prize was a dainty piece of lingerie. At the conclusion of the games a delightful salad course with sherbet was served.

The elaborate card party given by Miss Margaret Moore in honor of her sister, Mrs. Sam Paul of Beaufort on Saturday afternoon was a most enjoyable affair. Six tables of bridge players and two of rook devotees spent a couple of pleasant hours devoted to the games, at the conclusion of which it was found that the highest score in bridge had been made by Mrs. O. B. Bartlett, who was presented with a deck of cards. The consolation prize, a handsome Paul Neyson vase, being drawn by Mrs. Luther Ellison. Miss Bessie McManus winning the rook prize, a rose bowl filled with fragrant buds. Delicious ice cream with angel food and pound cake were the cooling refreshments.

Scholarship at Winthrop.

A scholarship at Winthrop College, worth $100 and tuition is offered by Ridge District U. D. C. to girls in the following counties: York, Lancaster, Chester, Fairfield, Kershaw, Richland and Lexington.

Applicants must be 16 years of age, unable to pay for the course, able to pass the entrance examination to the college, must be lineal descendants of Confederate veterans of honorable records, and must have the endorsement of a president of a Chapter of U. D. C.

The scholarship will be awarded by competitive examination held at the court house at 9 a. m., July 2, 1915. Apply before then to Miss Arnida Moses, Chairman of Education South Carolina Division U. D. C., Sumter, S. C.

Why Not Extend Improvements One Block North of Court House?

To the Editor of The News:

I notice quite a lot being said about where the proposed white lights should be placed. Now there lives one-third of the voters and taxpayers north of the court house, and they seem to have no consideration at all—"not in it"—as this part of the town is never mentioned. We think the thing to do is to extend the white lights and improved street at least one block north of the court house. It looks like we are not to have a single white light or a foot of improved street north of the court house. L. C. PAYSEUR.

Schools Consolidated.

Superintendent of Education Lingle informs us that at a recent meeting of the county board of education the Sims and Camp Creek schools in school district No. 15, were consolidated. This action was taken on petition of the patrons of both schools.

Notice to Veterans.

All Confederate veterans of the county are requested to meet at the court house on Saturday of this week at 10 a. m. for the transaction of important business. W. Q. Caskey, Adgt.

The Toy Train in War.

How many people who have attended the expositions of the past failed to observe the miniature railroads or who failed to take a circuitous ride around the grounds in the toy cars? It is a matter of interest to learn that the miniature railroad operated at the expositions has given the allies a commercial idea. It appears that among the war orders placed in this country have been included specifications for hundreds of these little trains that will be put into service for transporting shells and ammunition into the trenches of the allies. The engines are being built by the Baldwin Works, while Canadian shops are turning out the cars. The narrow-gauge track by which these miniature trains will reach the trenches will be mainly through tunnels and there will not be very much diversity as a scenic route, but the toy engines and cars will deliver the goods comparatively safe from attack by aeroplanes or otherwise.—Charlotte Observer.

Contest Closes.

With this issue of The News our Advertisers' Contest comes to an end. The winners were not listed in last Friday's paper, but we list them today as follows: 5, 8, 27, 29, 3, 17, 14, 9 and 4.

Errors for today are few, and them in ads numbers 19, 5, 2, 14 and 20. The correction in number 8 will give you a capital A, but you don't need to count that one. Number 20 winds the ball up, and your answer must be in the office by Saturday, July 3, 1915.

Agreed.

Whatever the people of this country may think of war, and however devoutly they may hope that this country shall never again become embroiled in war, all have probably concluded by now, with the possible exceptions of Mr. Bryan, that it behooves us to be ready.—Chester Reporter.
